To whom it may concern:

I serve as the Head Coach and Sporting Director for the Columbus Crew, one of the 19 professional soccer teams comprising Major League Soccer ("MLS"), the premier professional soccer league in the United States.

The Columbus Crew is a 'player first' sports organization that places a high value on the health and wellness of its players. As such, we applied Sterile Doctor to our Training Facility and Stadium Locker Room to reduce the risk of our athletes missing valuable training or games due to illness contracted in our team environments.

We have enjoyed our working relationships with Sterile Environments, particularly their attention to detail and responsiveness, and we hope to continue our relationship moving forward.

Sincerely,

Gregg Berhalter
